

Press Release

The Morpheus Group is delighted to announce its support of Backing Young Britain, a national government backed coaching scheme designed to help Britain's young people find employment.

Morpheus will be mentoring candidates between the ages of 18 - 24, helping them to reach their full potential during these tough economic times.

This investment will help them to learn valuable life skills and gain experience in the world of employment, whether that's landing that all-important first job or getting back to work.

Morpheus director, Mike Swetman said: "We are very proud to be involved with Backing Young Britain and are delighted that we can provide advice and support to these young people. Our recruitment and consultancy teams have a wealth of experience across various industries and are pleased that we may be able to help young people be better trained and more job ready.

Our whole team has committed to become mentors, offering their own time and guidance on the transition into the world of full time employment. We will be sharing our own experiences as well as giving practical advice on CV writing and interview techniques to give something back to the young people of our country. "

-Ends-

Note to Editors:

The Morpheus Group is a complete business solutions provider for process and cultural change. Founded in 2005, Morpheus has built a strong reputation for consistently delivering senior programme and change managers to an impressive blue chip client base. For more information: www.morpheus-group.com

The Morpheus Group, Garrick House, 26-27 Southampton Street, Covent Garden, London, WC2N 7RS Tel: +44 (0)207 717 8660

Backing Young Britain is a cross-Government campaign bringing together business, public sector organizations and the voluntary sector to provide more opportunities for young people. For more information: www.hmg.gov.uk/backingyoungbritain